1. Legal Framework and Aims

1.1 The Legal Framework

The SEND policy takes careful account of the statutory provisions covering SEND. They are:

- The Children & Families Act (2014)
- Special Educational Needs & Disabilities Regulations (2014)
- Special Educational Needs Code of Practice: 0-25 (2015)

1.2 SEND Definition

This policy draws on the definition of special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) from the Special Educational Needs and Disability Code of Practice: 0-25 (2015).

A child or young person has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she:

- has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others the same age, or
- has a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.

Children and young people who have a disability do not necessarily have SEN, however, it is recognised that there is a significant overlap between disabled children and young people and those with SEN. Under the Equality Act 2010 children and young people who have SEN may have a disability that is ‘...a physical or mental impairment which has a long-term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities’.

Students who have SEND will fall into at least one of four identified areas of need, many students will have inter-related needs. The areas of need as identified in the SEND Code of Practice (2015) are:

- Communication and Interaction
- Cognition and Learning
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health difficulties
- Sensory and/or Physical

1.3 Aims

John Port Spencer Academy believes that each student has individual and unique needs. Students are entitled to an education that is most appropriate to their ability and best suited to their individual strengths and needs.

We aim to provide every student with a broad and balanced education, this includes the National Curriculum in line with the SEND Code of Practice (2015).

We aim to:

3. Admissions and Special Educational Needs and Disabilities

3.1 Admissions

John Port Spencer Academy's admission arrangements are detailed in the Admissions Policy.

3.2 Facilities for students with SEND

John Port Spencer Academy has an inclusion centre within the Jubilee building. All students, including those with SEND are supported to access the full curriculum through high quality teaching and individualised support plans. The inclusion centre provides additional support as part of these plans, such as short term academic, social and emotional based interventions and a quiet, safe space as needed for students with sensory difficulties. The inclusion centre also promotes the development of friendships and social connections at break and lunch times for students who benefit from this support.

3.3 Disability Access

John Port Spencer Academy is accessible to students with physical disabilities and mobility difficulties, such as those using wheelchairs or walking frames. Each faculty has ground floor classrooms. See Accessibility plan.

4. Identification, Assessment Arrangements and Review Procedures

4.1 SEND In-Service Training

George Spencer Academy recognises the area of SEND as an important area for in-service training and Continuing Professional Development. The academy encourages and provides funds for:

- key staff to attend relevant courses and events;
- the SENCO to share good practice with other Spencer Academies;
- whole academy INSET to support good SEND practice in the classroom.

4.2 Identification, Assessment Arrangements & Review Procedures

High quality teaching, differentiated for individual students, is the first step in responding to students who have or may have SEND. Additional intervention and support cannot compensate for a lack of good quality teaching. In deciding whether to make special educational provision, the teacher and SENCO will consider all of the information gathered from within the academy about the student's progress, alongside national data and expectations of progress.

Regular assessments of students' progress will allow identification of students who are making less than expected progress given their age and individual circumstances. This can be characterised by progress which:

- is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline; fails to match or better the student's previous rate of progress;
- fails to close the attainment gap between the student and their peers;
- widens the attainment gap.

Where a student is identified as having SEND, action will be taken to remove all barriers to learning and to put effective special educational provision in place. This SEND support will take the form of a four-part cycle through which earlier decisions and actions are revisited, refined and revised with a growing understanding of the student's needs and of what supports the student in making good progress and securing good outcomes. This is known as the graduated approach.

Where, despite the academy having taken relevant and purposeful action to identify, assess and meet the needs of the student, the student has not made expected progress, the academy will consider requesting an Education, Health and Care (EHC) needs assessment.

To inform their decision about whether an EHC needs assessment is necessary the Local Authority will consider evidence that the student is not making progress, despite the provision put in place by the academy.

The academy will provide:

- evidence of the student's academic attainment and rate of progress;
- information about the nature, extent and context of the student's SEND;
- evidence of the action already being taken to meet the student's SEND;
- evidence that, where progress has been made, it has only been as the result of much additional intervention and support over and above that which is usually provided;
- evidence of the student's physical, emotional and social development and health needs, drawing on relevant evidence from clinicians and other health professionals and what has been done to meet these by other agencies.
